KING & COUNTRY'S

1763

A great year for GREAT BRITAIN. Its ancient foe, France had been utterly vanquished... The French Navy sat at the bottom of a dozen harbours and its army lay broken and battered...

Over India and North America the UNION JACK flew triumphantly... What could possibly go wrong?

Redcoats

BR075

In less than twenty years one of the most precious jewels in the British Crown would be lost to a motley collection of uppity colonialists and a ragtag, renegade militia... But not without a fight!

The causes and quarrels behind the AMERICAN REVOLUTION are beyond the scope of this small announcement... Our intention here is simply to inform you of the imminent arrival of a new British regiment to reinforce KING GEORGE'S (God bless him) FORCES fighting the rebels in the American Colonies.

THE 23rd, ROYAL WELSH FUSILIERS

This brave and noble REGT. will arrive in NEW YORK HARBOUR in June 1773. It will fight courageously at LEXINGTON and BUNKER HILL and also serve as marines aboard Admiral Howe's fleet for a time.

DESERT AIRFIELD

SOMEWHERE IN NORTH AFRICA, a young Luftwaffe pilot prepares to take off in his "tropicalised" Bf.109 on another fighter mission...

But this is no ordinary pilot, this is Hans-Joachim Marseille, the "Star of Africa"... arguably one of the greatest air aces of WW2. Eventually his score will stand at 158 enemy aircraft (mostly British) before being killed in a flying accident in September 1942.

K&C's latest warbird features a "Strictly Limited" version of just one of Marseille's many Messerschmitt Bf 109's and a special standing figure of the man himself.

Together with our latest Afrika Korps figures, fighting vehicles and airfield structures they make a fine display for any collector of the war in North Africa between 1940 and 1943.

JESUS and the Elders

IN 2009 KING & COUNTRY began "THE LIFE OF JESUS" with a modest collection of figures and animals depicting the Nativity.

The intention was to tell a story that had been told many times before... but tell it in a fresh new way...

Following the initial success of those first releases the story has moved on twelve years... to the time when the young Jesus accompanied his family and friends up to the temple in Jerusalem to celebrate the "Feast of the Passover"...

Five new sets of figures are available as well as a unique "ecumenical" structure to display with them.

The K&C Desert Village Temple/Mosque together with the Temple Square and part of the Minaret make a perfect setting for the figures.

Desert village Temple/Mosque

Temple Square forms the ideal base of the Temple/Mosque

EVERY YEAR HIS PARENTS went to Jerusalem for the Feast of the Passover. When he was twelve years old, they went up to the Feast, according to the custom...

After the Feast was over, while his parents were returning home, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but they were unaware of it.

Thinking he was in their company they traveled on for a day. Then they began to look for him among their relatives and friends. When they could not find him they returned to Jerusalem to search for him.

After three days they eventually found him in the temple, sitting among the elders and the rabbis, listening to them and asking questions.

Everyone who heard him was amazed by his understanding and knowledge.

When his parents saw him they were astonished. His mother said to him "Son, why have you treated us like this? Your father and I have been so worried searching for you."

Jesus looked at them. "Why were you searching for me?" he asked. "Did you not know that I am in my Father's house?" But they could not understand what he was telling them.

Then he returned to Nazareth with Mary and Joseph and was obedient to them. And his mother treasured all these things in her heart and the boy Jesus continued to grow in wisdom and stature and in favour with God and men.

SPITFIRE SUMMER

"The Battle Of France is over. I expect the Battle of Britain is about to begin!"

Winston Churchill

RAF016
Spitfire Mk1

With these simple words Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill heralded the coming aerial conflict over Britain in his speech to the House of Commons on June 18, 1940.

Back in 2009 KING & COUNTRY released our first all-new polystone and metal warbird in many years—the Hawker Hurricane.

This sturdy, reliable aircraft made up fully two-thirds of RAF Fighter Command's front-line strength during the length of the Battle.

It was another aircraft however that stole the public's heart and captured its collective imagination, R.J. Mitchell's iconic Supermarine Spitfire.

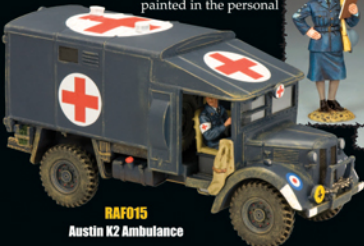

Our K&C 1:30 scale Spitfire Mk1 is painted in the personal markings of Fl. Lt. Al Deere, a New Zealander flying with the RAF's own 54 Squadron throughout the Battle. Al Deere shot down 17 German WAAF's (Women's Auxiliary Air Force) and also an additional kneeling armourer and a Royal Air Force service policeman on security duty.

Finally there is our RAF Austin K2 Ambulance RAF015 complete with WAAF driver, an essential part of any wartime airfield scene or diorama.

"Fighting Scots"

ABOUT TWO OR three o'clock in the afternoon a French column between 3,000 and 4,000 strong advanced toward our position... At this point the 92nd. were ordered to stand to and prepare for action. Simultaneously, Major General Pack called out, "92nd. everyone has give way on your right and left... you must charge the enemy!" The Regiment then formed up four deep and fired an opening volley at the advancing French infantry... It was then that the Scots Greys passed through our ranks. Both regiments now charged together, calling out: "Scotland Forever!"

Within minutes the French soldiers column broke and began to run with the horsemen and highlanders in close pursuit.

One of the most memorable actions of the Battle of Waterloo is once more brought to life with the release of KING & COUNTRY's newest Napoleonic regiment... The 92nd Highlanders later known as The Gordon Highlanders. Eleven brand-new figures from the Regt. are portrayed including a "special" two-piece set showing a charging trooper of the Scots Greys alongwith a running 92nd Highlander.

Apart from this small 2-figure vignette all other figures are available individually and can be used on their own or in multiples to make up large and small dramatic and colourful displays.

HITLERJUGEND '44

BY THE OUTBREAK of the Second World War in September 1939 the Nazi Party's Youth Organization The Hitlerjugend numbered over seven and a quarter million members.

It was not until June 1943 however that the first organized "Hitlerjugend" fighting unit was formed... the aptly named 12th. SS Panzer Division "Hitlerjugend".

10,000 carefully selected seventeen year olds began training in Belgium under the keen and experienced eyes of NCO's and officers from the Fuhrer's own premier SS division "Leibstandarte Adolf Hitler".

BAPTISM OF FIRE

In the Spring of 1944 the division was moved to France to await the long expected Allied invasion of occupied Europe. They did not have a long wait... On June 6, 1944 the invasion began on the beaches of Normandy.

This KING & COUNTRY release brings together some great new pieces... our latest battle-worn "Panther Ausf. A" WS176... the deadly "Pak 97/38" anti-tank gun set WS165... a three-man "MG42 Gun Group" WS166 plus... a kneeling officer WS164.

The FLAK 41 was a late-war development of the highly successful 88mm German anti-aircraft and anti-tank gun. Utilizing a lower profile than its famous predecessor it also had a faster rate of fire... 20-25 rounds a minute (compared to 15-20 with the earlier 88). Just 556 Flak 41's were produced between 1943 and 1945.

and inexperienced, hastily formed "Volksturm" units... All of them however were expected, like some medieval army, to "live off the land" or at least "the enemy" during their attack. Food, fuel... even warm winter clothing would and could be taken from their foes!

K&C's latest winter-clad releases include the powerful FLAK 41 (with add-on crew figures)... SS Obersturmführer Otto Skorzeny and his command vehicle and a small selection of single and 2-figure vignettes that make any "Battle of the Bulge" diorama come alive. This winter... look out for them!

16 DECEMBER... EARLY MORNING

As the first streaks of a winter dawn broke over the Ardennes a mighty barrage of German shells burst upon U.S. forward defences...

While dazed and shell-shocked American survivors looked out from their bunkers and foxholes hordes of German armour and gray-clad infantry advanced on their positions.

Somehow from somewhere the Germans had gathered the last of their reserves to make a determined, desperate attack in the West.

K&C's ADVANCE GUARD

For this surprise attack the Germans threw everything in... from their latest and most powerful FLAK 41 artillery piece... to obsolete and outdated transport and command vehicles.

BEERSHEBA 1917

ON OCTOBER 31, 1917, 800 men of the Australian Light Horse made what is generally regarded as the last great cavalry charge in history...

Their objective was the Turkish-held town of Beersheba in what was then called Palestine. As the Light Horsemen spurred their mounts into a gallop the Turkish defenders opened fire with rifles, machine guns and field artillery.

On and on the Australians came, bayonets drawn and rifles unslung... Within minutes they were already at the outer line of Turkish defence works... Panic and confusion soon spread among the defenders as the Australians leapt their horses over the sandbagged emplacements. The battle now dissolved into hundreds of desperate individual hand-to-hand struggles between the "wild colonial boys" and the fear-stricken Turkish infantry and artillery gunners.

KING & COUNTRY's latest release of Light Horsemen and Turks captures that dramatic moment... Three brand-new mounted figures are joined by a Turkish artillery set... and eight foot figures in dynamic action poses.
