

KING & COUNTRY'S

1776

BR059

BR061

PRISONERS

Both sides took prisoners who were sometimes exchanged... If they were fortunate!

AR057

AR055

AR053

AR056

AR058

AR054

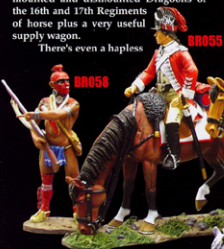

THE MILITIA

Militiamen were locally recruited part-time soldiers who rarely wore a traditional style soldiers' uniform and often lacked formal military training.

THIS YEAR the War for the American Colonies continues... Reinforcements for both sides are pouring in and provide additional support for the Forces of the Crown and the upstart Rebels.

On the British side there are mounted and dismounted Dragoons of the 16th and 17th Regiments of horse plus a very useful supply wagon.

There's even a hapless

BR055

BR050

BR056

BR057

BR060

SUPPLIES

Military forces required a steady, reliable flow of loaded wagons to feed... clothe... shelter... and equip their armies in the field.

rebel with his pistol wielding escort.

For the colonials... six individual Continental Militiamen wearing a colourful assortment of buckskin jackets and different headgear... All of them ready for action!

If you've only just began to collect K&C's American Revolutionary War series "1776" you're in for a special treat with these new releases.

BR054

KING & COUNTRY'S

Continental Soldier

BEING A COMPLETE COLLECTION of the uniforms, weapons and equipment with which General GEO. WASHINGTON'S New Model Army lived, fought and died.

On June 15, 1775 the Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, appointed George Washington of Virginia to Commander in Chief of the combined volunteers of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

This small force was to become the nucleus of America's first national army.

From this motley host Washington began to bring order and organization. It was autumn of 1775 before the new army was truly formed - a Continental Army of just 26 regiments of infantry, one of riflemen and just one of artillery.

A total of 20,372 men and boys who would face the armed might and muskets of King George's red coats.

This King & Country release brings some welcome recruits for the hard-pressed rebels.

Available wherever fine quality toy soldiers are sold.

KING & COUNTRY

AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

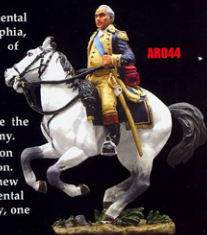

AR035

AR037

AR044

AR040

AR039

AR035

AR042

AR036

AR038

AR041

All new Continental Soldiers are from the 1st. New York Regt.

AR035 Standing Flagbearer

AR036 Officer Firing Pistol

AR037 Drummer Boy

AR038 Standing Firing Rifle

AR039 Standing Loading Rifle

AR040 Standing Ready

AR041 Kneeling Firing Rifle

AR042 Kneeling Ready

AR043 Kneeling Loading Rifle

AR044 New George Washington on Horseback

In the bitter struggle for the American Colonies some strange alliances were forged...

BR042

BR045

Redcoat & Redmen

FOR MANY NATIVE AMERICANS, the war that erupted between the whitemen in 1776 was a welcome respite. Their own battles with the European settlers had seen a constant erosion of their tribal lands, hunting grounds and traditional way of life.

Some tribes however allied themselves with the Forces of the Crown in the forlorn hope of improving their situation.

BR033

the British with an extremely useful irregular force who spread fear and terror up and down the colonial frontier throughout the Revolution.

Their skills as scouts, skirmishers and raiding parties provided

BR047

REVOLUTIONARY!

To supplement our existing "1776" series, K&C are introducing six new "Woodland Indians" in dramatic, dynamic action poses. These new figures, sold individually, provide additional variety and excitement to an already colourful battlefield.

Look out for more of them in the future.

"SOLDIERS OF THE KING"

Regular British troops have also been added to King George's Forces... No less than nine new officers and men are formed up and advancing on the rebellious colonials!

A magnificent mounted figure representing General Cornwallis proudly leads his men. Behind him is a marching officer, sword drawn, issuing orders... Two other officers carrying the Regimental and King's Colour are in support.

A young drummer playing his fife

BR043

BR046

BR044

and a bellowing sergeant are followed by three different soldiers - marching with musket "ready"... marching with musket "levelled" and kneeling firing. Add these last three in multiples and you have an impressive display of British military might.

KING & COUNTRY

AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

Available wherever fine quality military miniatures are sold.

BR035

BR036

BR039

BR038

BR034

BR033 Mounted General Cornwallis

BR034 Marching Officer w/ Sword

BR035 Marching Officer w/ Union Flag

BR036 Marching Officer w/ Regimental Flag

BR037 Shouting Sergeant w/ Rifle

BR038 Marching Drummer/Fifer

BR039 Advancing w/ Rifle & Bayonet

BR040 Marching w/ Rifle Ready

BR041 Kneeling Firing Rifle

BR042 Advancing Indian w/ Rifle

BR043 Indian Ready w/ Rifle

BR044 Kneeling Indian w/ Rifle

BR045 Indian Firing Bow

BR046 Indian Firing Rifle

BR047 "Take No Prisoners!"

Revolution

A FEW YEARS AGO when we launched our first Revolutionary War figures, no one could have predicted their popular success.

We're proud to say that as release has followed release their popularity has continued to grow to the extent that they are now one of King & Country's most important (and colourful) series!

This latest collection of figures introduces probably America's most famous fighting men - The United States Marine Corps or as they were known then... The Continental Marines.

AR051 has designed and produced no less than eight individual green-clad Marines in a varied range of action and parade poses.

Among the pieces is Captain Samuel Nicholas who led these original 'Leathernecks' and went on to

BR048 Redcoat Standing Firing

BR049 Redcoat Charging

BR050 Redcoat Casualty

Their Indian allies have had a successful battle and are enjoying the "Spoils of War".

BR051 Mounted Warrior

BR052 Dressed to Kill become the Corps original Commandant.

AR043 Marine Standing Firing

AR046 Marine Priming Musket

AR047 Marine Standing Ready

AR048 Marine Presenting Arms

AR049 Captain Samuel Nicholas

AR050 Marine Drummer Boy

AR051 Marine Flag Bearer

AR052 Marine Kneeling Firing

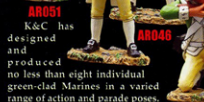

BR053

All of these new additions will add depth and colour to your Revolutionary War collection... look out for them now!

Available wherever fine quality military miniatures are sold.

REDCOAT & REDMEN

This release also sees reinforcements for our British Redcoat Regiment and their Indian allies. Primed and ready to support the Crown are...

AR045

AR046

AR047

AR052

BR051

BR052

BR048

KING & COUNTRY
AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

BR050

KING & COUNTRY HEADQUARTERS

Suite 2301, 23fl., No.3 Lockhart Road,
Wanchai, Hong Kong
Tel: (852) 2861 3450 Fax: (852) 2861 3806
E-mail: sales@kingandcountry.com

KING & COUNTRY SHOP

362, Pacific Place, 88 Queensway,
Hong Kong
Tel: (852) 2525 8603
Website: www.kingandcountry.com