

KING & COUNTRY'S

AUTHENTIC HAND - MADE HISTORY

The French Army is defeated... the British have fled back to their island... France lies prostrate under the German jackboot... and Hitler decides to pay a visit to Paris!

Hitler's Paris Visit

WS106

WS113
MG34
Gun Team

This is the rare Ausf.F model, WS106. Just 30 examples of this were eventually built and the majority of them saw service on the Eastern Front. A few however were seen in the West. Our model comes complete with two crew figures and mounts two MG34 machine guns.

With all of these new releases, K&C is

BLITZKRIEG!

WS107
German War
Correspondent Set

Early one morning a cavalcade of powerful Mercedes staff cars speed through the deserted streets of the French capital. At several of the city's most famous landmarks the convey stops and the unwelcome 'tourists' get out, have their photos taken and then move on...

Adolf Hitler is making his one and only tour of the 'city of light'... in record time.

NOT SO 'GAY PAREE'

King & Country captures this

WS110
Hitlemen in Action

unique moment in history with WS106 'Hitler's Paris Visit' - a brand new version of the Führer and his entourage riding in one of their famous six-wheel

Mercedes Staff Cars. Apart from Hitler, the set includes his personal driver, two SS bodyguards and two other high ranking Nazi officials.

WS111
'Over There'

Other new figures being released at the same time include WS107, a three man War Correspondent set and no less than twelve combat-ready, early-war Waffen SS fighting figures organized into small and individual groupings.

ARMOURD SUPPORT

K&C have also launched an all new Panzer I.

WS112
'Open Fire'

filling in several important gaps in our World War II collections. To find out more simply check out our website or contact your favourite King & Country Dealer.

If you are into the Second World War then you have to be into K&C.

KING & COUNTRY

AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

WS108
Panzer I Tank
Ausf.I

WS114
Marching
Waffen SS Officer

WS115
Marching
Waffen SS Trooper

From the glory days of the Blitzkrieg
to the shattered remnants of the 1000 year Reich...

Soldaten!

WHEN ADOLF HITLER came to power in Germany in 1933 one of his primary goals was to rebuild and expand the German Armed Forces.

First, he abolished the Weimar Republic's Reichswehr and replaced it with the Wehrmacht. Then, he announced that this new force would no longer be restricted by the severe limits imposed on it by the 1919 Treaty of Versailles.

Within six short years Hitler's new Wehrmacht had grown to a mighty force of almost 3 1/4 million men. Its equipment... training and tactics were about to be tested to the limit by a revolutionary new kind of warfare... Blitzkrieg!

On September 1, 1939 Hitler unleashed his "Dogs of War" on Poland. Within nine months they had conquered most of Europe... except Britain. He now turned his eyes eastwards...

MARCHING TO ARMAGEDDON

The German Army's triumphs in the West were to be fatally blind them when they attacked the Soviet Union in June 1941. Neither Hitler... nor his Generals... or his troops realized the huge enormity of the task they fatally undertook on that bright June morning.

From that day forward until the end of the war fully 2/3 of the German Army (now numbering almost 8 million men) fought "in the East". Elsewhere German forces were in action in North Africa, the Balkans and, of course, in Western Europe.

Often they were outnumbered and outgunned but they fought with tenacity, skill and courage that few of their opponents could match. It's true to say that few other armies could equal their battlefield prowess man-for-man. Time and again they fought their way out of impossible situations to live to fight another day.

Above: Even until late in the war most German infantry still went into battle... on foot.

THE K&C COLLECTION

Over the years King & Country has produced an amazing and varied range of Wehrmacht and Waffen SS soldiers and fighting vehicles.

This latest collection portrays the German soldier as he would have appeared at different stages of the war. From the early war camouflage smocks of the Waffen SS to the winter clad panzer grenadiers of Hitler's last great offensive... The Battle of the Bulge... and many battles in between.

Similarly our fighting vehicles cover many different campaigns and theatres of operations from those early Blitzkrieg assaults on Poland and France to the desperate counter attacks in Normandy and the Ardennes.

Above: One of K&C's most popular Winter German sets, WS081 the Kettenschrad (motorcycle), was retired in 2007.

Since we started producing German soldiers and vehicles in the 1990's K&C has released well over 100 different sets... and we are not finished yet...

If you would like to see what's currently available look no further than this brochure... you will find plenty to choose from.

Andy C. Peile

Andy C. Peile
Co-founder & Creative Director
King & Country

WS035
Hitler

KING & COUNTRY'S

NORMANDY 1944

By NIGHTFALL on June 6, 1944, the Allies had achieved many of their "primary objectives". They had secured all five of their landing beaches and already reinforcements were pouring in...

On that warm summer evening the Allied forces had made a "break-in" - not a "break-through". The real battle for Normandy was about to begin...

COUNTER ATTACK!

Although initially caught off-guard the Germans soon reorganized themselves and began to launch a series of counter attacks on the British, Canadian and

WS001 MG42 Gun Group

American positions. In the forefront of these assaults were the elite divisions of the Waffen SS.

Superbly led... well trained... and highly motivated the men (and boys) with the double lightning flash on their collar patches did much to hold the German line and threaten the Allied advance.

These Waffen SS soldiers using their experienced battlefield skills took full advantage of the unique Normandy "bocage". This was the centuries-old network of sunken roads and steep hedgerows that bordered the small fields that blanketed the Norman countryside.

WS058 New Fighting Patrol

This landscape was ideal for defence and camouflage.

The Germans made excellent use of this to enable their vastly outnumbered tanks, artillery and infantry to take on the much larger Allied forces.

They did however still have to contend with British and American naval gunfire as well as the aerial assault from Allied fighters and bombers.

ACHTUNG!

King & Country provides the largest and most diverse collection of German troops and fighting vehicles of the Normandy campaign of any current manufacturer of military miniatures. Presently, the following sets are available and in production...

WS050 Panzer Grenadier Patrol

WS050 "Panzer Grenadier Patrol" - These four Grenadiers prepare to head towards the action.

WS051 "MG42 Gun Group" - Firing their MG42 machine gun from a kneeling position this four-man section is already in action.

ALSO AVAILABLE

WS058 "New Fighting Patrol" - Four additional Waffen SS infantrymen on the move.

WS060 "Tank Ambush" - A four-man "Panzerschrek" team are ready to knock-out any Allied tank that comes their way.

WS062 "Tank Riders" - Four seated, kneeling and standing "soldaten" who can be carried on any of our German armour.

WS075 "Commander's

WS060 Tank Ambush

Conference" - A gathering of four high-ranking Waffen SS officers including 1st SS Corps Commander Sepp Dietrich... 12th SS commanding officer Fritz Witt

WS062 Jagdpanther Riders

and two senior Regimental Commanders.

THE GERMANS IN NORMANDY

For Hitler the war in the West was a "poor man's war" overshadowed by the titanic struggle in the East. Although he did deploy several of his favourite Waffen SS divisions in Normandy overall the standard of the German Armed forces there was decidedly mixed.

Many of the units were under-strength and ill-equipped. Others were made up of "Osttruppen", soldiers recruited among Russian prisoners-of-war. Even more suffered from a lack of suitable transport... huge numbers of these dented vehicles were still in common use.

In addition the Germans made wide use of captured weapons and equipment... although fine in theory, in practise it was a quartermaster's nightmare!

Finally the Allies had complete control of the air which made movement by day hazardous and by night difficult. This also seriously affected German operational mobility and fighting morale.

For four long years most of Western Europe was under the heel of the Nazi jackboot... the German presence was everywhere... watching... waiting... and threatening...

Between April and June 1940, the German Armed Forces overran Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Holland, Belgium and France. The people of these countries were left stunned, humiliated and frightened by the hordes of field gray soldiers that descended upon them.

At first the occupiers behaved with almost scrupulous politeness. Before long however, with the arrival of the Gestapo and other security police, the true face of the German war machine and party apparatus became all too clear...

Simultaneously the Germans began to divert and exploit the resources of each occupied country for the benefit of their own Nazi war effort. At first resistance seemed futile but slowly and hesitatingly, as resentment grew, some brave individuals formed groups and cells to oppose the hated occupiers.

As the resistance in each country grew so too did the vicious and violent response of the Germans to it. Security checks... roadblocks... house-to-house searches... mass reprisals... arbitrary arrest and in a hundred other ways the Nazi rulers made their brutal presence and force felt.

HALT! IDENTITY PAPERS!

Among King & Country's latest WW2 German releases are some of the most visible members of the occupation forces... the Feldgendarmrie or German Military Police. Although the primary duty of these Military Policemen was to enforce discipline among the German Army itself they were often used on general security duties... setting up roadblocks... checking vehicles and pedestrians... as well as providing extra back up for the Gestapo or SD (Sicherheitsdienst) when they were making arrests.

WS087 "HALT!" shows a pair of Feldgendarmen with their BMW motorcycle combination halting traffic...

ready for an inspection.

WS088 "Road Block"
Another two Feldgendarmes dismantled from their camouflaged m/c combination preparing to check some civilians.

"Feldgendarmes were nicknamed 'chained dogs' by their fellow soldiers because of the metal gorget they sometimes wore around their necks while on duty.

WS089 "Feldgendarme Dispatch Rider" Apart from their normal police and security duties they were often employed as dispatch riders to both pick up and deliver important papers. This particular camouflage... has moving wheels... a detachable rear cover and... for the very first time a fully detailed, interior and driving figure!

Apart from larger trucks and lorries the Germans also appropriated a wide range of civilian motor cars.

IRON HEEL... IRON HEART

WS091 "Gestapo Arrest!" An unfortunate civilian has been taken into custody, he may be a figure is mounted on a single BMW machine.

"Road Block" WS088

TRANSPORT WOES...

Throughout WW2 the Germans were chronically undersupplied with motorized transport -

WS092 "Tour of Inspection"

member of the resistance. Who knows?

Out of the classic French Citroën "Traction" car he is taken by two SD men. Another SD man is behind the wheel inside the car.

WS092 "Tour of Inspection." Another one of the Citroën "Traction" Staff Cars this time a camouflaged Wehrmacht version. This one comes with a seated driver again plus three standing figures... one of them a well known Nazi personality... Albert Speer, head of "Organization Todt", the party's own construction division tasked with, among other things, building Hitler's "Atlantic Wall".

Here, Speer is talking with one of his "OT" foremen.

WS089 "Dispatch Rider"

almost 70% of all German military vehicles were horse-drawn. Although they made extensive use of captured enemy vehicles there were relatively few German-made trucks and cars available to them.

Among the four wheeled trucks and lorries they did produce for themselves the most famous was the "Opel Blitz". This 3-ton truck saw wide service on all fronts where the German Army was fighting. Our model is in typical late war 3-colour

WS090 Opel Blitz Truck (Normandy Version)

Accompanying him is a German General.

The final releases of this batch are four single figures and a great-looking motorcycle combination - that is not Military Police!

WS093 "German Officer Saluting" A standing figure in full fighting order delivering the traditional military salute.

WS094 "Guard Duty" Wearing his long greatcoat this "soldaten" with shouldered rifle stares straight ahead.

WS095 "Marching Officer" Another Officer marches confidently forward.

WS093

Standing Saluting German Officer

WS096 "Marching Soldier" This late war German soldier, although still

WS094 Standing German Guard

wearing field gray, now wears ankle gaiters instead of jackboots and has a camouflage covered steel helmet.

WS097 "Motorcycle Field Ambulance" A really unique piece... The BMW combination converted to carry a stretcher case with a medic driving.

UNDER THE SWASTIKA

As we wrote earlier, at the beginning of the Occupation, the Germans followed Adolf Hitler's rule of thumb to the letter... "A wise conqueror will always impose his demands on the conquered by small installments."

The Nazis avoided, at first, open confrontations with their subject peoples, often dealing relatively lightly, with any opposition to their rule. In most countries a night-time curfew was all that limited most citizens' daily (or nightly) activities.

Slowly but surely they began to tighten the noose... inch by inch. In occupied Europe adult males had to carry as many as six different forms of identification: a standard I.D. card with photo... a work permit... ration card... military service discharge... medical exemption from forced labour and, perhaps, a travel permit for access anywhere near a frontier or coast.

These papers could be demanded at any time by the Abwehr (military intelligence), the SS, SD, Gestapo or indeed any uniformed German official.

In France alone the Abwehr operated from 69 different offices around the country... the feared Gestapo had even more - 131 stations, bureaux and offices.

WS095

The Germans were not the only ones "keeping tabs" on the civil populations of the occupied nations. In each country a number of locally recruited paramilitary and auxiliary police forces were set up to support the Germans, provide local intelligence and keep the people in line.

The most infamous was "The Milice" in France made up of extreme right-wing nationalists who whole-heartedly collaborated with the Germans... and did their bidding and some of their "dirty work".

Angered by the increasing successes of the "resistance" the German security forces and their collaborators dealt mercilessly with any opponents.

WS098 Marching German Soldier

WS097 Medic Evac. Motorcycle Combo

WS092

"Tour of Inspection"

WS091 "Gestapo Arrest!"

OVER THE YEARS K&C has produced an amazing number of German soldiers and fighting vehicles of World War 2.

Not only that but we've manufactured several different versions of some of the most famous ones such as the Panther and Tiger.

Pictured here are the now-retired WS043 "Wittman's Last Tiger" and WS072 "Summer Panther". Filling out the scene are several very rare King & Country tank figures including our first German Tank Crew.

With the ongoing popularity and growing demand for older, K&C retired pieces collecting King & Country is becoming not just fun... but for some collectors... very profitable!

KING & COUNTRY'S
ARCHIVE

KING & COUNTRY'S

ACHTUNG PANZER!

WS098
German T34

WHEN THE GERMAN ARMY INVADED

the Soviet Union in June 1941 the surprise was virtually complete! The Russian defenses—stretched thinly along the border—broke into confusion. Behind the front line there were few reserves... and those that were found themselves rapidly surrounded and crushed.

As the Germans advanced hundreds of miles into Russia the speed of their attack began to slow down. At the same time the Russians themselves began to put up stiffer resistance. Part of that "stiffer resistance" came in the armoured form of a new Soviet tank... the T34.

To say that this new Russian fighting vehicle came as a surprise to the Germans would be a slight understatement. It was not only the equal of the best German tank of that time... it was actually better!

Armed with a 76mm main gun and two machine guns this new "Dreadnought

WS099
German Tank Crew

surprise was virtually and large numbers of these machines fell into their hands... almost brand-new and in perfect running order straight from the factory. The Germans quickly took advantage of their windfall and equipped many of their own armoured units with these T34's.

King & Country's latest armour addition is one of these "Germanized" T34's (WS098). Repainted in typical three-colour German camouflage our model is in the markings of the 2nd SS Panzer Division "Das Reich" and comes with three crew figures.

IN ADDITION...

As well as the "German" T34 we also have two other new sets—WS099 "German Tank Crew" and WS102 "Normandy Kubelwagen".

First, the tank crew... these five Panzer figures are perfect to go with any display of Axis or Allied fighting vehicles.

WS102 "Normandy Kubelwagen" is a camouflaged adaptation of our very popular "Fields of Battle" field gray version. This time, a few years later, it's in the lush fields of Normandy and arrives with three separate figures—a seated driver... a tank officer and a standing Panzer Grenadier NCO...

All three sets are welcome "add-ons" to your World War Two collection... look out for them now!

WS102
Normandy Kubelwagen

of the Russian Steppes" had excellent sloping armour... a top speed of 50km. per hour and... could cover over 300 kilometres without refueling. Even Germany's finest tank general Heinz Guderian admitted the T34 was "the best tank in the world".

TURNCOAT T34'S

Fortunately for the Germans, Russian tank tactics were far inferior to their own

KING & COUNTRY
AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

KING & COUNTRY'S

"TOP SECRET"

BY THE LATTER STAGES of The Second World War the German aviation industry, under the express orders of Adolf Hitler, was desperately seeking ever more fantastic "ways and means" to defeat the Allied aerial armadas that were devastating the Third Reich by day and by night...

The amazing variety of incredible designs conceived by the Germans in those dying days have, for a long time, enthralled historians... airplane buffs and, of course, collectors and modelers.

Many of these designs and concepts, brilliant and innovative though they were, never got "off the drawing board"... A few however did test fly and some even made it into combat... albeit briefly.

Over the years the influence of many of these ground-breaking ideas could be seen in the aircraft, both military and civilian, that followed the end of the war.

WS101

Sd.kfz.252 Transporter

DIMENSIONS:
Wingspan..... 5.80 metres
Length..... 7.50 metres

K&C'S SECRET PROJECT

For King & Country's first "top secret" project we chose the Focke-Wulf "Rammler". Originally derived from the V1 Flying Bomb, this piloted jet missile was reported to have an ejection seat fitted. This would have allowed its pilot to escape before the aircraft smashed into enemy bomber formations threatening the Reich.

It was also proposed that the Hitlerjugend would provide the "pilots" to be trained to operate the aircraft. To ensure missions were not aborted the aircraft was not provided with any landing gear... not even a skid.

ABOUT OUR MODELS...

WS100 "The Fuhrer's Last Fighter". Our K&C "Rammler" is mounted on its transport trolley and being taken to its launch site... the young pilot already in the cockpit. Overseeing this are a Luftwaffe Training Officer and Luftwaffe guard.

To pull the trolley and its jet fighter we have WS101

"The Transporter". This little Sd.kfz.252 Halftrack was normally used to haul supplies and ammunition on the battlefield. The Luftwaffe however, utilized them on airfields to help position aircraft and pull fuel bowlers and bomb carts. The K&C version includes a Luftwaffe vehicle commander in the top hatch.

Now is the time to uncover a few of the Fuhrer's "Wonder Weapons" for yourself and add a little extra punch to your collection...

KING & COUNTRY

AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

WS100

The Fuhrer's Last Fighter

Apart from Focke-Wulf other firms that designed Rammler aircraft included Arado... Blohm & Voess... Heinkel and Messerschmitt.

Sepp Dietrich

WATCH ON THE RHINE was the operational code name for the last major German offensive in the west.

On December 16, 1944 three armies - the 5th and 6th Panzer Armies plus the 7th Army launched a surprise attack through the snow-blanketed Ardennes forest between Luxembourg and Belgium.

BBG002 Winter Patrol

Their aim - to seize the vital port of Antwerp ... cut the Allied supply lines ... split apart the British and Canadians from the Americans and, hopefully, force the Allies to seek a separate peace settlement.

That was the bold and very ambitious plan and ... it almost succeeded!

BBG003 Tank Riders

K&C 'WINTER' GERMANS

In 2004, to mark the 60th Anniversary of "The Battle of The Bulge" we released a batch of American sets. Now it's time for the opposition - two brand-new tracked fighting vehicles ... four sets of figures and ... a superb 'personality' piece.

BBG002 'Winter Patrol' Four Waffen SS and Volksgrenadiers in snow camouflage advance to the front.

BBG003 'Winter Tank Riders' For a fortunate few a ride to the front might be provided by a passing vehicle. Four Waffen SS

BBG004 GI Prisoners

perched on a King Tiger.

BBG004 'G.I. Prisoners' Three unlucky Americans about to be searched by their Volksgrenadier guard.

BBG006 'Crossing the Road' Based on several famous photos these four Waffen SS troopers really 'come alive' in this action group.

BBG007 'Sepp Dietrich' Commanding 6th Panzer Army this former C.O. of Leibstandarte Adolf Hitler makes a striking figure wearing his warm sheepskin jacket over his field gray uniform. The figure's pose is typically Dietrich.

BBG006 Crossing the Road

WS083

General Hasso Von Manteuffel

Featured below is one of the most iconic images of World War Two... a young SS Panzer Grenadier about to go into battle. Even though still in his early twenties it is more than likely he has already seen action in either France or the Eastern Front... probably both.

Tough and battle-hardened this youthful Waffen SS soldier made for a formidable enemy and... a difficult nut to crack!

At this late stage of the War, Himmler's Waffen SS numbered more than 600,000 officers and men.

CAMPAIGNS, a French General once noted, should always be fought in the summer... seldom in the spring or autumn... and never, ever in the winter!

Hitler, of course, had scant regard for the opinions of others... least of all French Generals.

When, in June 1941, the Germans invaded Russia they expected another "walkover" ... just like Poland... Scandinavia... the Low Countries and ... France.

WS082

Winter MG42 Set

The war, they were sure, would be over in weeks if not... a few months. By November 1941, they had advanced hundreds of miles, won several major victories and were hammering at the gates of Moscow. Then "General Winter" stepped in...

Panzer Grenadiers passing a still-burning American half-track.

that by the following year the German Army was much better prepared... and clothed.

DRESSING FOR WINTER

King & Country's latest release shows a new German winter warrior radically different from the victorious conquerors of 1939 and 1940.

All of these new pieces can be utilized in either Eastern or Western Front displays and dioramas.

WS085

"Moving Forward"

With the first snows the German war machine ground to a halt... guns froze... engines seized up... oil turned to sludge and the freezing cold decimated the ranks of the still summer-uniformed German troops.

Many harsh lessons were taught and learned in that first Russian winter so

WS084

Winter Sledge

WS082 "MG42 Gun Set" in "fixed-firing" mode with three figures.

WS083 "Lt. Gen. Hasso von Mantraffel". Personality figure plus field telescope.

WS084 "Winter Sledge". One soldier hauls his wounded comrade.

WS085 "Moving Forward". Two winter infantry in action.

WS086 "Prepare to Fire!". Two more winter infantry including one sniper.

Above: A belt buckle worn by a Waffen SS trooper.

WS086

"Prepare to Fire!"

KING & COUNTRY'S

ELEFANT ON ICE!

BBG013
Mountain
Troopers

Panzerjäger Tiger (F)
mit 8.8 Pak 43.2 (L/71)

BBG008
Sd.Kfz.184 "Elefant"

AT 5:30am on December 16, 1944 seven German armoured and thirteen infantry divisions were preparing to assault American forces along a quiet sixty mile front in Belgium and Luxembourg. Under a blanket of snow and fog almost 1,000 tanks and self propelled guns (with another 450 in reserve) were going to descend on the unsuspecting U.S. units facing them.

mighty "Elefant"... a monster of an assault gun mounting an 88mm cannon. Mostly used in Russia and the Eastern Front, some were utilized in Italy and, it was rumoured, a few appeared in the Ardennes.

BBG010 is a 2-man ski set. The German Army was lucky in having several mountain divisions of troops who were excellent skiers (as well as first-class mountaineers).

BBG011 "The Command Group" shows two officers, one consulting his map, the other making a report.

BBG012 is another fine 2-man set of troopers in snow shoes and carrying the field radio.

BBG013 Two more mountain troopers, one carrying his skis the other with an ice pick making their way forward.

BBG012
Radio Group

Finally we have BBG014 a 4-man advancing rifle section wearing a typical late war mix of camouflage and winter clothing.

All of these sets are available now and fit perfectly with our earlier "Battle of The Bulge" releases... Recruit them today!

BBG010
Ski
Troopers

Once more King & Country returns to one of the epic struggles of the Second World War... "The Battle of The Bulge".

OUR WINTER CAMPAIGN

These seven welcome new additions to our "Battle of The Bulge" series bring some additional support for the advancing Germans. BBG008 is the

BBG011
Command Group

BBG012 Snow Patrol

KING & COUNTRY
AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

KING & COUNTRY'S

BATTLEFIELD

88 mm Flak18(36) Zugkraftwagen 12t
(5d.Kfz.8) D89

WS116
Wehrmacht
Officer

FRANCE, JUNE 1944 and the Allies have landed. Desperately the German forces try to counter attack and throw them back into the sea...

Unfortunately for Hitler's soldiers the British and the Americans have complete control of the summer skies over Normandy. Anything that moves on road and rail attracts the unwelcome attentions of swarms of Allied fighterbombers.

Most German infantry arrive at the front on foot. Meanwhile all their supporting transport, armour and artillery can only operate under cover of darkness.

The battle however is far from lost...the Wehrmacht and Waffen SS units contain many battle-hardened veterans

WS117
"Get Ready!"

WS103

88mm Flak 18
(with 3 mm crew)

WS118
"Moving Forward"

with plenty of combat experience under their belts. They also have some superb fighting machines...including the mighty and much feared '88.

ADVANCE TO CONTACT

King & Country's newest WW2 release includes no less than 11 Wehrmacht foot figures (in 5 sets) and our latest version of the tank-killing '88 Flak Gun. WS103 depicts the gun mounted on a 12 ton half track transporter and comes with a five-man crew to operate it. Only 750 of this "Normandy" version of the gun are being released.

Add on our new German infantry figures to this '88 and you have a great little collection that will be sure to satisfy any dedicated WW2 collector. Set up your own Normandy battlefield today!

KING & COUNTRY

AUTHENTIC HAND-MADE HISTORY

Available around the world whenever fine quality military miniatures are sold.

WS119
"On the Road"

WS120
Walking Machine
Gun Team

COMING SOON!

KING & COUNTRY HEADQUARTERS

Suite 2301, 23rd Floor, No.3 Lockhart Road,
Wanchai, Hong Kong
Tel : (852) 2861 3450 Fax : (852) 2861 3806
E-mail: sales@kingandcountry.com

KING & COUNTRY SHOP

362, Pacific Place, 88 Queensway,
Hong Kong
Tel : (852) 2525 8603
Website : www.kingandcountry.com

KINGS X

206 Alamo Plaza, San Antonio, TX 78205, USA
Tel : (210) 226 7000 Fax : (210) 226 7117
E-mail: sales@kingsx.com
Website : www.kingsx.com